MONTHLY FACTSHEET

all data as at 31st July 2025

PORTFOLIO OBJECTIVES AND STRATEGY

The Wise Defensive Model Portfolio is designed for clients who are looking for a total return in line with Bank of England Base rate + 1% over a 5 to 10 year period with lower volatility than could be expected from full exposure to the stock market. We aim to achieve this by investing in a select and focussed list of funds (unit trusts, investment trusts and OEICs), with diversification across geography, asset class and investment style. These funds invest in real assets, such as company shares (listed both in the UK and overseas), property, fixed interest and cash. The Portfolio is selected with no more than 40% invested in 'medium' risk assets, such as shares and property. The balance of at least 60% is held in assets defined as 'moderate', 'low' or 'minimal' risk, which are mainly comprised of fixed interest (UK government and higher quality company debt) and cash. No exposure will be allocated to higher risk assets. We therefore consider the portfolio to be suitable for those willing to adopt a defensive risk profile.

All data used on this factsheet is supplied by Financial Express. Rounding may result in charts and tables not adding up to 100% in displayed data. Performance is based on total returns on a bid-to-bid basis, net of UK dividend tax credits and is calculated referencing a model portfolio. Actual portfolio statistics may differ because of investment performance, cash movements, transaction costs and the timing of sales and purchases within the portfolio. MONTHLY COMMENTARY

July was another strong month for investors. In equity markets, the US continued its steady recovery from the April lows post “Liberation Day”, pushing up 5.9% in sterling terms to new highs, pulling the world index (which is ~70% US driven) up 4.9%. This was partly helped by an appreciation of the dollar vs the pound of 3.6%.

The other notably high returns came from Emerging Markets, which rose 5.6% as news of trade deals flowed in and fears of extreme tariffs subsided.

Other equity markets rose, but lagged the US, with the UK market up 3.9%, Europe up 0.9%, and Japan up 2.1%.

In fixed income, markets were less buoyant, with Gilts returning -0.4% and Corporate bonds returning just 0.4% as the yield curve rose slightly but credit spreads narrowed. High Yield bonds returned 1.1%, benefitting more from the tightening of credit spreads.

Finally, in real estate, directly held property dropped -0.5% while the listed liquid real estate dropped a further -2.8%.

Looking forward, while the US administration has managed to make some very favourable trade deals, especially with Europe, some uncertainty persists regarding US tariff policy. Tariffs have now been widely implemented and while headline US inflation came in fairly low as expected, under the hood there are some warning signs. While services, digital goods and travel costs dropped, physical goods like clothes and electronics, i.e imports, rose, suggesting early signs of businesses passing tariff costs through to end consumers - a trend that could push inflation, hamper growth and force the US Federal Reserve to further postpone hotly anticipated rate cuts.

Meanwhile the US and UK governments both seem to be unable to bring spending under control. In the US, the Big Beautiful Bill, full of tax cuts and spending, passed through both the House and Senate and is now in full force, pushing government spending further despite cuts and efficiencies promised in the election. In the UK further taxes and borrowing appear almost inevitable. This puts a deal of stress on bond markets, and while it is unlikely to create a sudden shock like we saw with the Lizz Truss budget in late 2022, it will likely continue to put a higher than desired floor on bond yields.

The defensive model returned +0.72%, ahead of the +0.44% return for the benchmark (BoE Base rate +1%). The performance was largely driven by strong performance in the large position in the Vontobel TwentyFour Absolute Return Credit fund up +0.5% and the small position Fidelity Index World up 7.0%.

We made no changes to the portfolio in July and maintain a strategy of sticking to shorter-dated bonds and securities, preferring to take on modest credit risk where prudent to boost return while looking to avoid the volatility that comes from holding longer-dated bonds due to their relatively poor yield.

The model remains ahead of the benchmark on a 1yr rolling basis, with the model returning 6.45% vs the “BoE base rate +1%” returning 5.69% and has achieved a return far superior to cash.

ASSET ALLOCATION

IMPORTANT INFORMATION

Portfolio returns from the Wise Investment Model Portfolio Service will be subject to investment market fluctuations and there is no guarantee that the portfolio objectives, including any income targets, will be achieved. Where income is received as dividends, these will be automatically reinvested in the Model Portfolio, which may result in the Model Portfolio returns being higher than what a client portfolio can actually achieve. The performance will be reduced by the withdrawal of income and the impact of the ongoing charges and portfolio transaction costs. The charges can vary. Prices of funds and the income from them may fall as well as rise and investors may not get back the amount originally invested. Consequently, an investment into this portfolio should be considered for a 5 to 10 year period. The funds may invest in higher-yielding or non-investment grade bonds. The funds may hold investments denominated in currencies other than sterling. Changes in exchange rates will cause the value of these investments and the income from them to rise or fall. The funds can use derivatives for investment purposes. These instruments can be more volatile than investment in equities or bonds.
